I could not stop laughing! The funniest thing had occured. That I had ever seen. While I was in the Front of the yard where the small home I was living in was located. I saw a dog Fly through the air like it had just been shot from a cannon! Then a Cat "Ha! Ha! Ha!" "Oh whatt the heck!" I exclaimed.

'Thud!' the dog landed!

'Screetch!' the cat landed.

They had been making a racket and the longest protest in my entire life I had ever been witness to.

I felt like I was witnessing Justice in a Comical form!

The cat was black and white with a mixed look of bad luck and malnutirion.

Scratching and pawing on the walls of the house I was in like a scratch post.

The cat had been looking for the weak parts of the home and sneaking into the shady areas.

The Cat landed on it's two front paws and scratched the rocks.

It had just been launched twenty five feet.

The dog had just been launched twenty six feet and he landed on his side.

He fell asleep!

"I told you to be quiet!"

The home owner ran outside and then he ran back and grabbed a broomstick.

He chased the cat and beat the dog who was still asleep on the asphalt.

"How did they fly that far?" I asked.

"I threw the cat!"

"The dog I used a giant slingshot for!"

"If you see them don't let them come back! I'm tired of their noise!" He said.

"Ok" I replied.

It was one of the funniest things I had ever seen.
